

Pediatric:

دكتور 2013 (السنة الدراسية 2017-2018)

1st rotation:

1. Take a full Hx from a mother of 5 days neonate with yellowish discoloration of skin and eye. Then answer the examiner question " what's is the most likely diagnosis? It was physiological Jaundice "breast milk jaundice"
2. Take a full Hx from the father of 6 year child with abdominal pain and fever of 2 days duration and answer the examiner question " it was UTI and the examiner question was the imaging used in the investigations".
3. Do a full cardiology exam for 8 year child with palpation and what are the findings.

2nd rotation:

1. Hx of hematuria with diagnosis and labs you would like to order.
2. Chronic cough with failure to thrive Hx with DDx
3. Full GI physical examination

3rd rotation:

- 1) Hx of Seizures and Fever and the dr asked about the differentials
- 2) Respiratory Physical including posterior and anterior chest
- 3) Hx of Short stature and the dr asked about the investigations

4th rotation:

- 1) Developmental for a 3 y/o child (al walad kan msa8e3)
- 2) Hx of rapid breathing, diagnosis was HF , the dr asked about differentials for his age

3) Hx of Headache and feve

5th Rotation:

1. Hx of hematuria with diagnosis and labs you would like to order.
2. Chronic cough with failure to thrive Hx with DDx
3. Full GI physical examination

6th Rotation:

- 1-Examination of respiratory system (anterior & posterior)
- 2-History of febrile seizure
- 3- history of short stature

7th Rotation:

Morning stations:

DKA (6 years old child with polyuria, remember you should by history exclude UTI and what is your diagnosis and investigations)

Broncholitis (1 year baby with Cough, abnormal breathing sound, remember to rule out asthma by asking about allergy and atopic dermatitis)

Lower limb neurological exam

Evening stations

Acute rhemuatic fever (6 years old with left knee swelling)

Croup (Cough, abnormal breathing sound)

Full GI exam (not just abdomen)

8th rotation:

- 1- history of jaundice in newborn 1 week old (diagnosis: physiological jaundice)
- 2- physical examination if cardiovascular system

3- history of 6 year old girl with abdominal pain and fever (diagnosis: UTI)
(Mention 2 imaging studies you would like to perform: Ultrasound/ VCUG)

9th Rotation:

- Physiologic jaundice Hx
- Cardiac examination
- UTI Hx

10th rotation:

Hx of skin rash (HSP)

Hx of diarrhea

Neuro exam don't forget clonus & Gowers' sign

11th rotation:

Developmental assessment for a 3 y/o

Hx from mother complaining from cyanosis of her 3 month old baby during breast feeding +DDX

Hx for kid complaining from fever and sore throat + DDX

12th rotation:

Take a focused hx from amother of 4 years old boy who had a seizure

What are the required investigations.

Take a full hx from a father of 10 year old female with abdominal pain, whas ur final dx? Functional abdominal pain, lbs is not correct

Full respiratory examination

الشكر موصول لكل طالب ساهم في جمع الأسئلة
بالتوفيق للجميع وادعو لنا بالخير ^_^

دكتور 2013